Electronic Turnstile Provides Safety & Security for Alfred G Pearce staff

A state-of-the-art turnstile and electronic barrier system, installed by CTS Security, has provided King's Lynn-based vegetable growing and processing firm, Alfred G Pearce with additional security - not just for their property, but also for staff and visitors.

Alfred G Pearce which has been growing, processing and marketing vegetables for Food Manufacturers in the UK and through Europe since 1959, approached CTS Security for advice about the security of their warehouse and processing plant.

Following a free survey and meetings to discuss the requirements, CTS Security's experts were able to propose a cost-effective solution.

CTS engineers, liaising closely with Alfred G Pearce, planned, designed and installed an electronic turnstile and gating system which closely controls who is allowed to enter the premises. Swipe cards, issued to authorised personnel, record information about everyone who passes through the gate, whilst intercoms and keycode pads provide an additional layer of security.

Simon Pearce, Director at Alfred G Pearce, commented, "The turnstile provides us with the peace of mind of knowing exactly who is on the premises at any time, and our staff can work knowing they are safe. We have been extremely pleased with CTS Security. Their experience has paid dividends and their friendly and professional service gives us confidence that the solutions they recommend will benefit our business."

Are Your Automatic Gates Safe?

Following disturbing national news of children being hurt and even killed by automatic electric gates, CTS Security are embarking on a campaign to help you make sure your gates are safe.

In September 2010 the Health & Safety Executive (HSE) issued new safety guidelines which should be followed by anyone with an existing electric gate as well as anyone installing a new gate.

To help you make sure your gates comply, CTS Security are offering a free survey. If you have an automatic gate or barrier at your place of work, or at home, please contact us today to arrange your free survey.

Our experts, who have many years experience with a wide range of security solutions including automatic gates, will be able to give you impartial advice and peace of mind by making sure your gates comply with the latest laws and Health & Safety Executive guidelines.

To ensure that your gates remain safe and continue to operate efficiently, as well as advice, we can also provide servicing and maintenance.

To arrange a free survey simply call us on 01553 765 429.

Children's Safety

Never allow children to play on or around an automatic electric gate. It may look like fun to ride on the gate, but children need to be made aware of the dangers electric gates can pose.
